ABOUT ANKARA

Ankara, the cosmopolitan capital of Türkiye, is located in the central Anatolian region of the country. It's a center for the performing arts, home to the State Opera and Ballet, the Presidential Symphony Orchestra and several national theater companies. Overlooking the city is Anitkabir, the enormous hilltop mausoleum of Kemal Atatürk, modern Türkiye's first president, who declared Ankara the capital in 1923.

The city is well connected to the other parts of the country by highways and railroads, there is also a huge international airport. Ankara's population today is over 5,7 million, that makes it second largest city in Türkiye.

The name of the city derived from Angora, a very soft fibre produced from the Angora rabbit. Therefore some animals bred in the area became the symbols of the city: Ankara cat, Ankara goat, Ankara rabbit.
